

Clint Wilder

Co-Author of The Clean Tech Revolution

and Contributing Editor, Clean Edge

Clint Wilder is contributing editor at Clean Edge, a leading research, consulting, and publishing firm covering the clean energy and clean technology industry. Wilder co-authored The Clean Tech Revolution, the widely praised book translated into five languages, with an updated paperback edition released in September 2008. USA Today calls the book "one of the few instances in this genre that shows the green movement not in heartstring terms, but as economically profitable."

Wilder has covered the high-tech and clean-tech industries as a business journalist for more than two decades and is a frequent speaker and panelist at industry events. He is also a blogger for the Green section of The Huffington Post, is a facilitator in the Energy and Climate track of the Clinton Global Initiative, and serves on the advisory board of the Green MBA clean tech investing project at Dominican University. He lives in Sausalito, California.
